

thinktank
Birmingham science museum

Volunteer Opportunity

Detail Science
Thinktank Motorbikes
Conservation Cars
Cleaning
Industry Bicycles

Role: Thinktank Conservation Team Member

Where: Thinktank

When: Thursdays fortnightly (2:00pm - 4:00pm)

Are you interested in conservation cleaning? Do you enjoy working with your hands and have great attention to detail? Would you enjoy working with our science and industry collection?

If so, we are currently recruiting members for our brand new Thinktank Conservation Team to help keep our science and industry collection at Thinktank looking fantastic.

What does the role involve?

- Conservation cleaning of our science and industry collections
- Dusting, vacuuming and other conservation cleaning tasks
- Working in a small team to preserve our collections
- Caring for our collections and ensuring they are in good condition
- Briefly chatting to visitors about the tasks you're doing (*optional)

Skills/Qualifications required?

- Great attention to detail
- Able to work independently at times but be a good team player too
- Confident working with your hands
- Interest in/knowledge of the care and preservation of collections
- Interest in/knowledge of science and industry
- Honest, reliable and committed
- Passionate about supporting your local museums

If you are successful then you will have the chance to work with our science and industry collection, learn new skills in conservation cleaning and meet new people too.

Training and support with be provided

Want to apply? Download the application form via:
<http://www.birminghammuseums.org.uk/volunteering>

birminghammuseums.org.uk

Funded by

Birmingham
Museums